Dulles Leaves For Big Four Conferences

Vows He Will Not Let Germany Stay Divided By Soviet

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles left for the Big Four foreign ministers conference today, vowing readiness to meet Russia's "legitimate" security concerns but not at the price of keeping Germany divided.

"Security for Russians is not inconsistent with justice for Germans," Dulles said in an airport statement.

"Indeed, we doubt that in the long run security is ever gained by perpetuating a grave injustice like the division of Germany."

The secretary's words came shortly after Sen. George (D-Ga.) told newsmen at the State Department that he doubts the foreign ministers meeting at Geneva will "get much beyond" the issues of German reunification and European security. George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said that not much progress can be hoped for unless these matters are settled. But once they are, George said, "you can make great progress."

Wilson, Stassen Also Leave

Traveling with Dulles were Secretary of Defense Wilson and Harold E. Stassen, presidential disarmament adviser. Dulles' first stop is Rome, where he will consult with Italian government officials before proceeding to Paris for talks with British, French and other Allied leaders in advance of their meeting the Russians Thursday.

Dulles' departure statement used more guarded words than some of his previous statements. Whereas he said last Tuesday at Denver that he and President Eisenhower shared a "measured hope" of progress at Geneva, Dulles declared today:

"I realize that this conference has serious implications. The foundations for it were built by the heads of government themselves.

"If we cannot build on that foundation, then many high hopes will have to be discarded.

"If, as I believe, we can build on that foundation, even modestly, then it will be good for all the world and we can look to the future with renewed confidence."

Thus, Dulles appeared to be looking for modest progress but cautioning that it may be necessary to abandon "many high hopes."

The emphasis placed by George and Dulles on German unity and European security reflect much of what Eisenhower told Soviet Premier Bulganin at the summit conference last July.

Documents Made Public

Documents made public by the State Department yesterday showed Eisenhower stressed that German reunification should occur on no fear on the part of Russia.

Dulles' statement today said the foreign ministers would seek to translate the summit meeting's generalities "into specific agreements." He said that will require "some giving on each side."

Pleading that the West is "ready to meet every legitimate Russian concern for security," Dulles said he and his colleagues will seek also to make progress on disarmament and freer East-West exchanges. These are other major items on the agenda.

Trio In Blue Automobile Sought In Triple Slaying

CHICAGO, Oct. 21 (AP)—Three young men in a weather-beaten blue car today were sought by investigators sorting clues to the weekend slaying of three schoolboy chums.

The hatless men were reported to have driven into a forest preserve parking area near Chicago's northwest limits less than two hours before the nude bodies of the triple-slaying victims were found in a ditch there, piled one upon the other.

Meanwhile, bickering developed between investigators of the Chicago Police Department and the Cook County sheriff's office over handling of the case. City police alleged the sheriff's office was not reporting all developments.

The victims were 14-year-old Robert Peterson, and the Schussler brothers, John, 13, and Anton Jr., 11. They had left their Northwest Side homes shortly before 3 p.m. Sunday, saying they intended to see a movie in Chicago's downtown loop.

Their bodies were found shortly before noon Tuesday. Medical experts said the youngsters died about midnight Sunday of strangulation after having been severely beaten. Evidence showed their eyes and mouths had been taped, but the tape was later removed.

The men in the blue car were mentioned by Edward Rohlfes, 47, and his daughter, Mrs. Joan Malicke, 19, who said they saw the trio about 10 a.m., Tuesday, near the spot where the bodies were found.

Brownell's Plan Approved By Ike

Atty. Gen. Discusses Program
To Battle Crime With President

DENVER, Oct. 21 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell, a top administration political strategist, saw President Eisenhower today—and said he got approval of a six-point program against federal criminal cases.

Brownell spent 25 minutes with the chief executive at Fitzsimons Army Hospital.

The man who played a major behind-the-scenes role in swinging the Republican presidential nomination to Eisenhower in 1952, told a news conference afterwards there was no discussion of politics.

To a question whether he thinks the President will run for another term next year, Brownell replied:

Refuses To Predict

"Well, I think while the President is on the — on his way to full health and strength it would be inappropriate for anybody to make comment on that."

So the conference revolved almost entirely around the Justice Department's program in the field of criminal law for next year. Brownell said Eisenhower approved it in full and it includes:

1. A request to Congress for a law making it a crime to invade the privacy of juries while they are considering cases. This grew out of the recently disclosed wiretapping of jury deliberations at Wichita, Kan., as part of a study of jury operations by the University of Chicago.

2. Proposed legislation to establish a system of paid public defenders—hundreds of them serving on a full or part time basis—to protect the rights of persons who can't afford to hire lawyers in federal cases.

3. Steps to cut down delays in federal courts. The aim is to reduce the backlog of cases by 25 per cent. Task forces of lawyers will be sent from Washington into congested districts and Congress will be asked to authorize the appointment of some 20 new federal judges.

4. Building a new 9½-million-dollar "maximum security" prison to relieve the load on overcrowded Alcatraz, Atlanta and Leavenworth.

5. Constructing a 7½-million-dollar correction center for youthful criminals to serve the area west of the Mississippi River. The only existing center, at Ashland, Ky., handles youths from east of the Mississippi.

6. A nationwide conference in Washington next April, on parole practice and procedure, with a view to changes that would be helpful in rehabilitating prisoners.

Build New Prison

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has appealed from his sickbed to German-speaking Saarlanders to vote "yes" for the statute. French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay has warned that a rejection of the statute will not mean that the territory will go to Germany but that the status quo will be maintained.

Pinay said rejection of Europeanization would make it impossible for any French Parliament to approve reopening negotiations for an alternative solution.

The statute provides a firm economic and customs union with France, and supervision of the Saar's foreign relations by a high commissioner to be appointed by the seven-nation WEU.

Princess' Plans Still Undecided

LONDON, Oct. 21 (AP)—Princess Margaret was reported still undecided tonight whether to marry Peter Townsend. But she went partying again with the 40-year-old divorced commoner.

The princess and her handsome war hero drove separately to the downtown home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Brand. Mrs. Brand is the former Laura Smith of a wealthy British bookstore family.

Townsend went to the party with Mark Bonham Carter, husband of the former Lady St. Just, divorced daughter of the late American publisher Conde Nast.

Margaret was driven there alone in a royal limousine.

Their meeting—the eighth in the past nine days—came as an informant in a position to know said Margaret, torn between love and duty, still has to reach the final momentous decision on her future.

Bodies Recovered From Chesapeake

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 21 (AP)—The bodies of a man and woman were recovered from Chesapeake Bay today, and the man was identified as one of three Washington area people who drowned in a boat accident Sunday.

Anne Arundel County police at Edgewater said the body of Vernie Edgewater, 32-year-old Washington restaurant operator, was retrieved by a Tidewater Fisheries Commission boat near the mouth of South River.

That of the woman was recovered about two hours later by a Coast Guard boat off Bay Ridge, just south of here on Chesapeake Bay.

Police said they did not know yet whether she was Marchetta C. Strang, 21-year-old beauty shop operator and dancer who was with Ballance and Myron H. Francis when their motor boat capsized.

The Justice Department announced tonight the receipt of the notice by the St. Lawrence Corp. of Montreal, a leading Canadian newsprint producer, that it would raise its newsprint price by $5 a ton on Nov. 1.

Saar Borders To Be Closed During Vote

European Commission
Warns People To Be
Calm, Maintain Order

SAARBRUECKEN, Saar, Oct. 21 (AP)—The European Commission for the Saar sternly warned Saarlanders tonight to maintain order and calm during Sunday's plebiscite on Europeanization of the rich valley.

The warning followed a commission announcement that the Saar's borders will be sealed tight on Sunday to keep out any foreign troublemakers during the voting and counting.

Sen. Fernand Dehousse, the commission's Belgian chairman, told a news conference the recent relative peace of the hotly contested plebiscite campaign "might change in the last days or on Sunday itself." He said the voting must be conducted with "order and calm worthy of a democracy."

Temper Run High

Temperatures are running high as the campaign for approval of the statute placing this coal and steel-rich territory on the French-German border under Western European Union control nears an end.

Pitted against the pro-Europeanization forces led by Saar Premier Johannes Hoffman are strong German elements who want the territory restored to Germany—despite the West German government's support of Europeanization.

In 1935, when Hitler was in power, 90 per cent of the Saarlanders voted in plebiscite to cast off League of Nations trusteeship and go back to Germany.

At the end of World War II, France took control of the Saar's economy and foreign affairs and supervision of its internal government, headed by Hoffman. Dispute between France and West Germany over the territory's future was an obstacle to the Bonn government's entry into the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance and authorization for West German rearmament until the Europeanization solution was proposed and accepted by both sides.

Talks Set Up On Newsprint

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Justice Department said today it is setting up a series of antitrust conferences with U. S. producers of newsprint in a program to prevent any joint effort to increase newsprint prices.

Deputy Atty. Gen. William R. Rogers said in a statement that "in view of the serious impact which newsprint price increases would have upon the publication of American newspapers, the United States newsprint producers are being invited individually to confer with representatives of the Antitrust Division."

Asst. Atty. Gen. Stanley N. Barnes, heading the Antitrust Division, issued a separate statement in which he said antitrust officials have long been concerned with the merger of newspapers, frequently a result of high independent operating costs.

Barnes asserted: "We are concerned that a further increase in cost at this time will cause still more newspapers, particularly the smaller and middle size companies, to be eliminated from the important business of keeping Americans informed."

"Under these circumstances, every effort will be made to prevent any joint efforts to increase newsprint prices."

The Justice Department announced tonight the receipt of the notice by the St. Lawrence Corp. of Montreal, a leading Canadian newsprint producer, that it would raise its newsprint price by $5 a ton on Nov. 1.

Union Workers Are Assessed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—The executive board of the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) today ordered an assessment of union members to provide aid for strikers at Westinghouse Electric Co. plants.

The assessment on non-striking members will be $15 or a day's pay, whichever is larger, each month the strike is in progress. Permission to invoke such assessments was voted at the IUE's last convention.

Minimum Wage For Government Miners Adopted

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Government today fixed minimum pay rates for miners producing coal for government purchase — adopted almost exactly the rates proposed by the United Mine Workers Union (UMW).

Secretary of Labor Mitchell announced that the new minimums will become effective on government coal contracts negotiated after Nov. 25. The law was issued under terms of the Walsh-Healey Act.

That law authorizes the Labor Department to set minimum wages for workers engaged in filling government contracts.

The guiding principle is that there must be the "prevailing" wage for the type of work.

Mitchell found, with one exception, that the rates proposed by the UMW were the "prevailing" rates payable on government orders. The rates range from $1.40 per hour in Iowa to $2.34 in Montana.

The Iowa rate was the exception where Mitchell did not agree with the UMW. For the vast bulk of the coal areas, known as the Appalachian Region covering Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia, Eastern Kentucky, Northern Tennessee, Ohio and Illinois, a rate of $2.245 per hour was fixed.

Today's order made final tentative proposals in an order of Aug. 3.

The rates adopted by Mitchell were based on the $18.25 per day basic union wage scale effective until Sept. 1. The union then won a $2 per day wage boost, hiking the daily rate to $20.25.

Union sources indicated the UMW may petition Mitchell sometime in the future to raise the rates promulgated today to take account of this increase. Part of the recent $2 per day union pay raise won't become effective until next April 1 and the UMW may wait until then to seek a new increase in the Walsh-Healey rates.

Boxer Dog Found Wandering About Streets — Drunk

BROCKTON, Mass., Oct. 21 (AP)—One of man's best friends was picked up by police today—for drunkenness.

Alfonzo, a 70-pound boxer dog, weaved down one of Brockton's main streets in obvious distress.

He stopped and leaned against a utility pole for support. Even that wasn't enough—Alfonzo collapsed to the sidewalk.

Worried spectators called police who classified the dog as a drunk and took him home.

Alfonzo's owner, Harry Alphonse of Brockton, explained that the dog likes to wander and has a yen for barrooms and affection. Patrons are partial to Alfonzo and because the dog likes beer, they often gave him drinks.

The owner reported later that Alfonzo was nursing his hangover on a chaise longue, refusing to have anything to do with anybody.

Knight To Run As California 'Favorite Son'

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California said today he would become a "favorite son" candidate for the 1956 Republican nomination for president if President Eisenhower does not seek re-election.

Knight expressed hope, however, at a news conference, that it would be Eisenhower's decision to run again.

The governor also said he would support Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the presidency if Eisenhower urged Nixon's nomination and if the convention nominated Nixon.

Knight and Nixon, fellow California Republicans, have been at odds politically.

Newsman asked Knight about reports he had said Nixon could not win the election as the Republican candidate for president.

"What I said," Knight replied, "was that two Gallup polls before President Eisenhower's illness showed that if Sen. Kefauver or Mr. Stevenson ran against Vice President Nixon they would have a long lead."

Asked what he thought of the situation now, the governor said it was "very early to do any speculating" and that he was hesitant to do so.

He said he and Nixon had never had any personal differences.

Knight related that in August 1954, there was a sharp difference over which group of party officials should be elected but that "after that contest in which the group Sen. Knowland and I selected were successful, we all closed ranks."

Knight emphasized that the Republicans were a minority party in California and could not "enjoy the luxury of factionalism."

"We're organized to cooperate," he said.

Weeks Asks Roads Tax Plan Backing By Business Group

HOT SPRINGS, Va., Oct. 21 (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks declared today the administration is ready to accept tax-as-you-go financing, if necessary, to obtain passage of President Eisenhower's multi-billion dollar highway program in the coming session of Congress.

Weeks urged the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council, which embraces the presidents and board chairmen of scores of the country's biggest corporations not to oppose tax increases on highway users that are "fair and equitable across the board."

The secretary spoke behind closed doors at the council's fall session, but later briefed reporters on his remarks.

Conferred With Operators

Weeks disclosed he has conferred with motor truck and bus operators and other highway users. He said he found that "all segments of the industry want a highway bill and recognize that the roads must be paid for."

He said the administration has not forsaken its proposal for a government corporation which would issue highway bonds outside the federal budget—a plan quickly rejected by Congress—but is willing to compromise because the problem is urgent.

"We would accept bond financing, or a program supported entirely by taxes, or a combination of both," he said.

Weeks reported the administration wants an early start on improvement of the 40,000-mile interstate highway system and suggested that the federal-aid program on other routes be maintained, with outlays "moving up year by year."

The secretary indicated the administration would not balk at a measure like that of Rep. Fallon (D-Md.), which like the Eisenhower plan, was defeated last session.

The Fallon bill called for tax increases on motor fuels and tires and other direct levies on highway users. Representatives of the bus and trucking industries fought the measure, however, complaining they would foot most of the increased tax bill.

Turning to another subject, Weeks made it clear the administration will battle to maintain the Business Advisory Council, which has been advising secretaries of commerce on business issues for 22 years, as it now operates.

The council session which he addressed was the first to be held by the "blue ribbon" body of industrialists since Chairman Celler (D-NY) of the House Judiciary Committee attacked the council on grounds that it exerts undue influence on the government. Celler's antitrust subcommittee opened an investigation of the council in August and plans to resume next week its hearings on business in government.

Stands By Refusal

Weeks indicated he will stand by his August refusal to open up the council's files for inspection by Congress. He has contended the records are confidential executive papers, protected from disclosure by the Constitution. In reference to Celler's complaint that the council operates in unwarranted secrecy and amounts to a "built-in lobby" for business within the government, Weeks said:

"One of the good things the Democrats did in 20 years was to create the Business Advisory Council."

"We've got the best business brains of the country here to tell the secretary of commerce what the business situation is likely to be."

"I can get more out of a group like this than I could in a month of Sundays in my own office."

The secretary told reporters he had also discussed with the council members virtually the entire range of his department's activities, including:

1. The Weather Bureau will spend about 15 million dollars in the study of the formation and behavior of hurricanes, in an effort to minimize such damage as has been wrought by winds and floods.

Seek Faster Reports

Part of the research, he said, will aim at determining whether it might be feasible to break up the hurricanes by bombs or other techniques before they assume dangerous proportions.

2. The Census Bureau is striving for faster reporting of business statistics, and hopes to satisfy the complaint of businessmen that government figures are "cold" by the time they are issued.

Optimism about the business out-

Plane Explodes And Crashes, Five Are Killed

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Oct. 21 (AP)—A private plane exploded and crashed in flames in this north-central Pennsylvania region today, killing five persons.

State police said those aboard the single engine Beechcraft Bonanza were Dr. Marvin O. Larsen, 33, of Middletown, N.Y.; his wife, Dorothy, 36; their two children, Marvin Dean, 18 months, and Karen, 4, and Russell Gowdey, of Bloomingburg, N.Y., near Middletown. Gowdey was described as a business associate of Dr. Larsen.

Cpl. Earl Moore, of the state police, said information that these five were in the plane came from the Middletown Airport where the plane took off for Pittsburgh.

Dr. Earl Miller of Lycoming County was on the scene but none of the bodies had been officially identified.

The plane exploded in view of several farmers and fell on the chicken farm of John E. Hart. The crash site is about 20 miles east of Williamsport, between Hughesville and Picture Rocks, near the community of Shady Nook.

State police and CAA investigators from the Williamsport Airport were still trying to recover the bodies almost three hours after the crash.

Jess E. Hackenbush of Williamsport, who flew over the scene soon after the accident, said it appeared that the plane struck the top of a utility pole.

Moore said the crash was caused by a "structural failure of the plane." He said he found a wing and door a mile from the spot where the plane came to earth in a ravine just off U. S. 220.

Gowdey, about 40, was a Middletown high school instructor and president of the New York State

Russian Sailors Given Asylum, Arrive In N.Y.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—Nine Russian sailors arrived here today to end an odyssey to freedom that began behind the Iron Curtain half a world away.

They were granted asylum in this country after their ship was captured by Chinese Nationalists off Formosa on June 23, 1954. They sacrificed families, friends and livelihoods for American liberty.

As they landed at Idlewild Airport, radio operator Micael Ivanov-Nikolov told newsmen:

"We have decided to come to this country for one reason. We think like all others in Russia and behind the Iron Curtain that the United States is the most important great force for the preservation of democracy and liberty."

"We hope by our action to give back liberty to the nations which lost it. We think that by our efforts in this country for liberty and democracy that we can do a lot of good for the Russian people."

Police Gather Evidence In Adams Murder

TOWSON, Md., Oct. 20 (AP)—Investigators scrambled to round out the evidence today after charging three persons with parts in the slaying of John I. Adams, key figure of a million-dollar numbers racket operation.

John E. Raine Jr., state's attorney for Baltimore County, said charges against the three will be submitted quickly to the grand jury, probably on Monday.

Pedro Finley Crooms, dapper 33-year-old auto plant worker who chain-smokes cigars, was accused of murder.

Helen Lois Jefferson, 30-year-old divorcee, waitress and Crooms' girl friend, was charged with being an accessory.

Robert Lee Palmer, 23-year-old Army sergeant, also was charged with being an accessory. He has been stationed at Ft. Holabird in Baltimore. Police said he formerly lived at Santa Monica, Calif., and attended U.C.L.A. They also reported he has a wife and two young children, apparently living with her mother in Houston, Texas.

Investigators declined to detail what part each of the three is alleged to have played in the killing, but the warrant against Crooms said Adams had been strangled in Crooms' shack with a woman's stocking Thursday, Oct. 13.

The battered body of the 39-year-old gambling figure was found last Saturday afternoon in some weeds off U. S. 40 just northeast of Baltimore.

This was miles from Crooms' shack in Turner Station, a teeming Negro suburb on the east edge of Baltimore.

All of those involved are Negroes.

Defense Rests In Maj. Alley Court Trial

FT. MEADE, Md., Oct. 21 (AP)—The defense today rested its case for Maj. Ronald E. Alley, Army officer accused of misconduct while a prisoner in Korea, but there were indications the two-month old trial still had some time to go before its end.

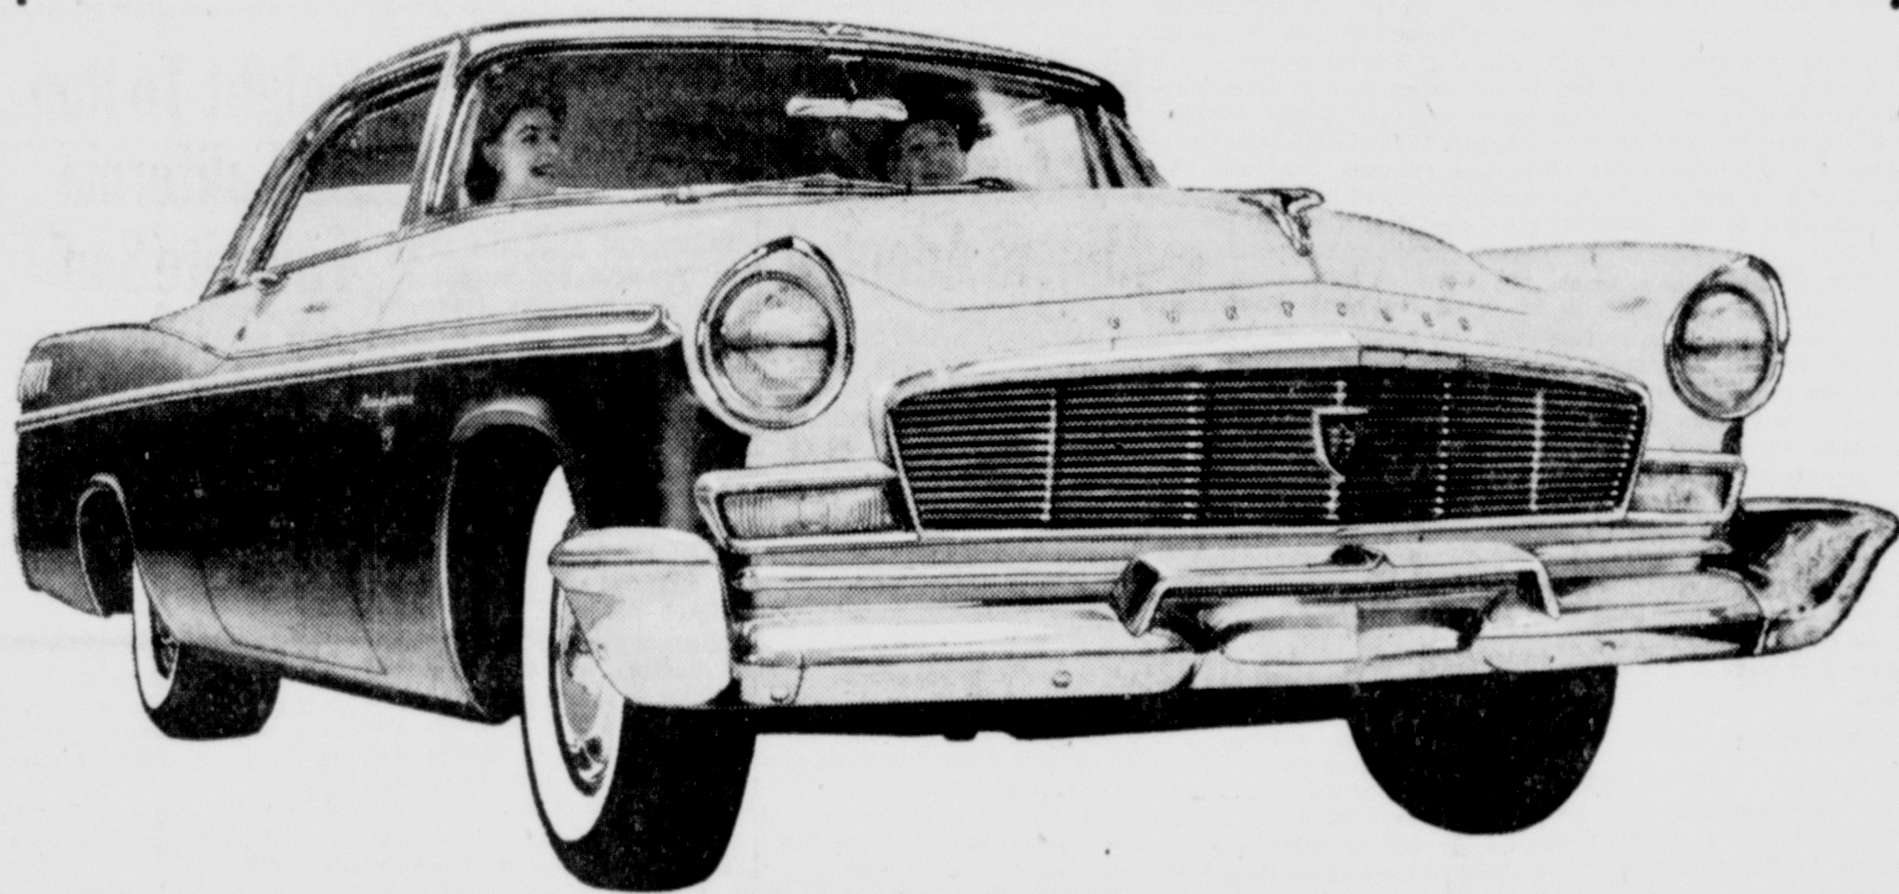

A string of prosecution witnesses took the stand shortly after the proceedings got underway this morning in the Army's attempt to disprove testimony of a prominent Washington psychiatrist that Alley is mentally unsound.

Nine former prisoners said they observed nothing to indicate that the 34-year-old artillery officer from Bar Harbor, Maine, was anything but sound while a prisoner. The prosecution has six psychiatrists to call in rebuttal to Dr. Bernard Glueck today.

A witness said Alley once told him he could see nothing wrong with giving the enemy information, and he admitted that he, himself, gave information about artillery tables of organization because "I felt my position had already been compromised by the accused" with whom he said he had been interrogated.

Maj. Fred L. Spears of Ft. Lewis, Wash., who had been in Alley's outfit, also said Alley admitted helping the Chinese make out a questionnaire which prisoners were required to fill out. This asked such things as the prisoners' political affiliations and religious preferences, he said.

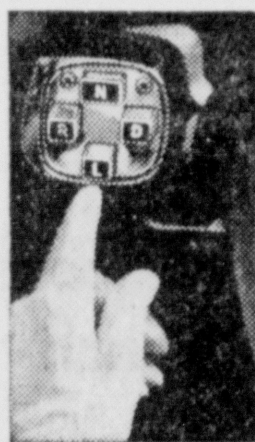

First Lt. Jefferson D. Erwin, who only recently was acquitted of charges of collaboration at Ft. Lewis, took the stand to say that Alley told him he remained at Camp No. 5 when the other officer prisoners were moved so that he could undergo further study of Marxism and Leninism. Erwin said Alley didn't tell him if he had been forced to stay behind.

WHAT SHALL I BE ?

"What shall I be when I grow up? What is life all about? Is there a God?"

Johnny is seeking. He wants to mold the future. He wants to know what to make of his life.

In later years, if Johnny hasn't found the answers, he will stop asking. He will be too concerned with the present to look to the future. He will be busy supporting a family, getting a new car, meeting unexpected sickness, trying to keep up with the Joneses.

So Johnny will start drifting. He will be carried away by the problems and anxieties of the grown-up world. He will be swept along in the stream of life without aims or purposes.

Help your Johnny to find the answers to his seeking. Take your child to Sunday School and Church this Sunday. Help him find the truth and certainty and faith to shape a great life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Schoolmarms Can Be Decorative Too

BALTIMORE, Oct. 21 (AP)—Pefite Jean Maloney, a living proof that schoolmarms can be decorative as well as useful, is one of 14,000 teachers in Baltimore for the 88th annual convention of the Maryland State Teachers Assn.

It is the fifth convention for Jean — or Miss Maloney, as she is known to commercial students at the Bethesda-Chevy Chase High School where she teaches business education.

She says she wouldn't miss one.
It gives her a chance to renew some old acquaintances among teachers, she says. And she can catch up on some of the latest teachers' aids and equipment put out by the business machine companies.

Matter of fact, the first place Miss Maloney heads for after fighting the three-deep registration desks at the Fifth Regiment Armory is the exhibit booths of such suppliers.

"They're so nice to you," she explains, talking about the exhibitors. "They're awfully generous with samples even though they know you're not going to buy anything. And they always remember your name."

She modestly did not mention that she is an exceptionally easy-type person to remember.

That took care of the morning and lunch, too, since one exhibitor booth was located next to the refreshment booth and she could look over the products and have a hot dog at the same time.

She took in the first general session in the afternoon, to hear Gov.
G. Mennen Williams of Michigan advocate a multi-billion dollar of federal aid for schools.

"Too long," she said of the speech, reflecting the reaction of a good many other conventioners.

She went to the convention dinner and dance Thursday night. She hadn't intended to. "I didn't bring another dress," she said, but she stayed, anyway.

Friday she attended a luncheon of the Business Education Department to hear an address by Dr.

Gordon L. Lippert, of the division of adult education service of the National Educational Assn., on "How to Uncover Leadership Potentials in Business Education."

Miss Maloney is a native of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., but came to Maryland to teach soon after graduation from the College of Misericordia in Dallas, Pa., because of a better salary offer.

She's engaged, but she plans to continue teaching even after she's married, for a while, anyhow.

She told a reporter her age, but asked:
"Please don't print it. All my students are trying to find out."

District Legion Will Meet Sunday

Mountain District American Legion will meet tomorrow at 2:15
p. m. at the home of Barton Post 189, with Ernest Poland, a member of the post and district vice commander, presiding.

The affair will be a joint session for both Legionnaires and auxiliary members. Among the expected guests are Department Commander David L. Brigham and Mrs. Brigham from Rockville, accompanied by John Sloan and Robert Koch, both of Baltimore.

Russell C. Paupe, district adjutant, has notified all posts and units of the meeting and a large attendance is anticipated.

Russ Major's Wife Seeks 'Asylum'

VIENNA, Austria, Oct. 21 (AP)—
The attractive wife of a Soviet army major is seeking asylum in Austria while her husband and two children return to Russia.

But the cause is personalities, not politics, Mrs. Tatjana Fedoseenko, 30, said today.

"My husband and I frequently had differences," she explained in an interview. "However, he refused to give me a divorce. Finally I could stand him no longer.
The Soviet troops were moving out of Austria and I did not want to go back as I had grown to love
this country."

Mrs. Fedoseenko took refuge at the U. S. Embassy in Vienna, from where she was sent on to the U. S. zone towns of Linz and Salzburg.

Archbishop, Eden Meet

LONDON, Oct. 21 (AP)—The archbishop of Canterbury called on Prime Minister Eden today. Officials said he was concerned with appointment of some new Church of England bishops and the visit had nothing to do with the rumormongering over Princess Margaret's romance.

Melting Icecap Could Flood Most Seaports

BALTIMORE, Oct. 21 (AP)—Baltimore, Washington, New York, London and nearly all the world's seaports would be under water if the two-mile thick icecap over the Antarctic Continent should melt, Maryland geography teachers were told today.

The entire state of Florida would disappear, Dr. J. H. Roscoe of the Department of Defense, said in an address before the geography department of the Maryland State Teachers Assn.

"If it should happen suddenly,
by means of a chain reaction — and such a thing is not inconceivable — the results would be catastrophic," Dr. Roscoe said.

Such a rapid shift would change the balance of the earth and could result in a relocation of the poles so that the North Pole would be located somewhere in the United States and all of Russia would be in a warm climate.

It's happening anyway, the speaker said, but the oceans are rising only at a rate of about 2 1/2 inches every century.

Woman, 65, Dies; Tried To Save Dog

CROZET, Va., Oct. 21 (AP)—Mrs.
Fannie Foster's devotion to her pet fox terrier—her only companion—cost her her life today.

The 65-year-old woman rushed out of her bungalow home when an oil stove flared up and set the kitchen ceiling afire. She called to a neighbor for aid and then—remembering the dog—went back into the smoke-filled house.

Firemen found the bodies of Mrs.
Foster and her dog on the living room floor. There was little fire damage to this part of the house.
Dr. E. D. Davis Jr., a state medical examiner, said suffocation caused Mrs. Foster's death.

Man Who Killed Stranger Gets Life

LANSING, Mich., Oct. 21 (AP)—A jealous man who shot and killed a complete stranger in a fit of rage was sentenced today to life imprisonment.

Clarence Ward, 42, was convicted of second degree murder in the slaying of Harold Cushman Jr., 26, on Aug. 1.

Cushman, waiting to see a doctor, was shot when Ward rushed into the office in an attempt to kill his former common law wife.

Brazilian Leader Wants Auto Capital

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 21 (AP)— Juscelino Kubitschek, the apparent winner of Brazil's presidential election, said today that when he takes office he hopes to attract capital to build automobiles as a symbol of the nation's expanding industry.

Pianist Cuts Wrists

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Oct. 21 (AP)— Joanne Du Val, night club pianist, was found in her apartment with both wrists slashed today.

Police, summoned by neighbors, said she was lying on her living room floor clad in a pink nightgown.

Also in the apartment, clad in walking shorts, was comedian Bert Stone. His clothing was blood-stained from efforts to stop Miss Du Val's bleeding.

Hymes Is Paroled On Guilty Plea

George S. Hymes was paroled for five years by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris after he pleaded guilty to a carnal knowledge charge involving a 15-year old local girl yesterday.

Judge Harris gave him a suspended sentence and then paroled Hymes on condition that his behavior remain good.

Meanwhile, a juvenile who appealed a Juvenile Court sentence which would have sent him to the Maryland Training School for Boys, was found guilty yesterday by Judge Harris on a charge of being a delinquent minor. Judge Harris also sentenced the boy to the Maryland Training School until he reaches the age of 21 but suspended the sentence during good behavior.

Backs Football Player

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—A high school principal called a juvenile court judge to say he didn't think a 17-year-old student of his should appear in court today "because he was supposed to play football."

Commented Judge Edith Cockrill: "They talk about juveniles not respecting the law." When the youth showed up, the judge fined him $10 for going through a stop sign.

Aerial "Territory" The Next Question

International legal experts have already begun pondering the problem of air ownership, anticipating the launching of the first space satellite by this country several years from now. No date for the launching has been set and the orbit to be followed by the man-made satellite is also undecided.

Ordinarily, the question of air sovereignty would not pose such a touchy problem, but with Russia either owning or controlling a great part of the world's area, it would be almost impossible to select an orbit that does not cross Red soil somewhere. And the Russians in the past have been mighty particular about who and what used "their" air.

Generally, legal minds are agreed that the 200-mile-plus altitude to be used by the experimental body is well over any height which could legitimately be claimed by a nation. The only fallacy in this reasoning is that the Russians do not think logically and they make their rules to suit themselves. They proved this again when they arbitrarily set their territorial water boundaries at 12 miles, when all other nations had accepted the traditional three-mile limit.

Actually, the best policy in this case would be to go ahead and select the path most suitable for scientific requirements and, ignoring all protestations, launch the satellite. There isn't any way in which the Russians could intercept anything that high, and anyhow it's time the Western world stopped dancing a jig everytime the Kremlinites start playing their tune.

They wouldn't approve the idea in any form unless they were certain they had surpassed this country in satellite development.

The Balanced Budget

Historic changes function in a chain, one thing leads to another. It is not only difficult to arrest the chain reactions, but that which becomes established can never be undone except by war or revolution. Those of us who rejected Roosevelt's "New Deal" were defeated.

The New Deal was, in any sense, revolutionary in the sense that it actually altered the ideas of the American people concerning the Constitution, private property rights, the relations of the federal government to the states, the relationship of the Congress to the public purse. It expanded the functions of government and elevated the power of the President.

Much of this was easy to do, if anyone desired to do it, because of the depression and the war. And now we have it. Those who believe that in 1955 this country will return to the system of life which prevailed here from 1789 to 1932 are fighting windmills. Usually those who think that way are astonished that they are not supported by business men in their efforts to preserve private enterprise. The fact is that business has adjusted itself to the New Deal revolution and is making bigger profits than ever. If in 1936-7, these business men fought the labor union idea of John L. Lewis and Walter Reuther, they are now in partnership with Reuther to preserve the system they once opposed. A return to a free economy would upset the larger American businesses as the organization of the CIO upset them.

Whereas in many states there is considerable resentment at current efforts at expansion of federal authority, the states nevertheless accept federal aid for that or that. Federal expansion can only be halted by rejecting federal aid for everything, roads, housing, education—everything. Thus far, no state has taken that position and therefore federal expansion continues.

Colleges and universities fell all over themselves to get the benefits of the GI Bill of Rights. Many of the smaller colleges expanded beyond their justifiable needs; now they find themselves with too much plant, too expensive a faculty, and too few students. Some of them are in such unfortunate financial straits that they will probably have to close down. And why not? From the standpoint of scholarship, some of them should close down.

Professors Donald J. Cowling and Carter Davidson in 1949 published a pamphlet warning their fellow educators of their dangers. They said:

"The social controls that have recently been developing on every hand in America are hailed as something new under the sun, and therefore better than what we have had before. But the controls are old—as old as government itself—the only new feature is the form of government that is pressing them upon the people. In the past it was tyranny or monarchy or oligarchy that forced individuals into patterns under a theory of the divine right of kings. But the American republic was formed on a new basis, which repudiated the theories and practices of the past. It was unique in that it was established by free men."

Also they said:

"The basic argument against federal aid for schools is that it would place in the hands of those in political authority the power to transform our whole way of life. Certain controls are conceded to be necessary from the start—joint responsibility in the preparation of educational plans for each state with authority resting with the United States commissioner of education for final approval according to standards which he determines; for regional representatives of the federal agency and for financial accounting to it of all money spent, and for annual reports covering the educational results achieved. These controls involve supervision not only of funds supplied by the federal government but of state funds as well . . ."

We have not yet witnessed such federal control of what is to be taught, but it is interesting that a left-wing conformity has established itself and conservative students complain that they are down-graded when they answer controversial questions differently from the private ideas of the so-called liberal instructor. Even if a student is only reduced from an A to B, it could affect his standing in the class, his chance to get a Phi Beta Kappa key and a foot on the first rung of the profession of scholarship. However, there are still free spirits in American universities who pursue their course without fear.

Mystery Accompanies Browder Hiring By 'Fund'

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — There's something strange and mysterious about the case of Earl Browder, secretary general of the Communist party in America from 1929 to 1945, who, it is announced, has been hired by "The Fund for the Republic" at a substantial salary per year for part of his time as a "source of information and raw material."

"The Fund for the Republic" is one of the so-called "liberal" organizations, financed by the Ford Foundation, and one of the cries of protest raised by the "left wing" is that the government used paid informants or pays ex-Communists as witnesses to testify in trials involving Communist problems.

But so far as can be discovered here, there is no case on record in which the government has ever paid money to any person while he himself was under indictment.

Indictment Pending

There is pending against Browder a criminal indictment accusing him of perjury.

But the curious aspect of the matter is that if Browder, who claims to have forsaken the Communist party, has done so, why should he hesitate to furnish all the information he possesses to his own government? He was summoned a few days ago to testify before the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security in executive session. He was under oath. He is reported to have refused to give any information of substance—and, of course, in such a refusal, he is protected against prosecution under the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution.

Again and again it is said that the Federal Bureau of Investigation has endeavored to persuade Browder to give under oath the history of the Communist party as Browder knows it—the very material sought by "The Fund for the Republic"—but he was declined to do so.

The question naturally arises whether "The Fund for the Republic" can be sure that it is getting complete information from a man who declines to testify under oath before his own government.

Various attempts have been made in recent years to have Browder make a clean breast of what he knows. There have been suggestions that some charitable foundation grant money to finance him during the period when he devotes his whole time to refreshing his recollection of what happened when he was in command of the Communist party in this country. These efforts collapsed because those to whom Browder talked became convinced he was holding back the key parts of the story.

Browder's position is that the Communist party never engaged in espionage while he was connected with it. Maybe he was unaware of that phase but, if so, he should not object to telling who he met at meetings from 1929 to 1945 and what they said, and what officials of the American government or other governments were in consultation with him and when and under what circumstances.

Should Not Object

A spokesman for "The Fund for the Republic" says that the organization isn't interested in obtaining "espionage secrets" and that Browder will not write any books or studies or "control a

A coughing ghost, we read, has been haunting the Christianborg castle, home of the Swedish Parliament. No wonder — those old buildings can be mighty drafty!

It must be annoying to a Swedish legislator to have his speech interrupted by a cough that really isn't there.

We see where the National Hall of Fame is staging an election to add more famous Americans to its statutory collection. There's not the usual rush of candidates, however—since a fellow has to be dead 25 years to be eligible.

Cholera Travels Fast But Problem Can Be Licked

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deifen

Less than 125 years ago a cholera epidemic took New Orleans by storm and within 12 days 5,000 of the 35,000 inhabitants perished. The death rate was so high, undertakers and clergymen were unable to cope with the situation.

Many victims were buried privately in gardens and enclosures others were weighted down and thrown into the river. Despite these wholesale deaths the epidemic was described as "typical."

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

Tourists in Hawaii who ask how Waikiki Beach got its name are solemnly informed that a Chinese visitor calmly went swimming one day on an exclusive beach clearly marked "KAPU" (Hawaiian for "Keep out"). He was chased once, but didn't understand a word the guard was saying, so he promptly returned. "The second time he was booted off the beach bodily. He picked himself up indignantly and demanded, 'Why kicky?'"

If the tourists believe that one, Hawaiians have a hundred even more preposterous whoppers to try out on them.

Have you heard about the sheep who made the big time in Hollywood? He landed a part of Terry Moore's next sweater.

Roger Price says he had to turn down the role of a private eye in a new TV series. He's allergic to trench coats. "It's my girl who ought to be doing the hush-hush stuff anyhow," he adds. "Can she keep a secret? We were engaged for three months before I knew it!"

Great Pan American Ambassador, Peace His Goal, Dies In Washington

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—A great man lay dying. He did not know it. The world did not know it. And for a time, the world, unknowing, did not seem to care . . . The October sun filtered in through the blinds of the bedroom and fell on his bed. Children's voices came up from the street below. The play-by-play account of a football game droned on from a nearby radio . . . The world, busy with its own joys, its own pain, paid scant attention to the death struggle of a man who had helped make history in the Western Hemisphere, whose life for a generation had been inextricably interwoven with the ups and downs of peace and war in the Americas.

Carlos Davila's eyes still burned bright as I sat beside him. They seemed even brighter because the sockets were deep, his face drawn, his body emaciated. He had been sick a long time . . . He did not look like the dapper little ambassador who had solved a world-famous social controversy by escorting Dolly Gann, sister of the vice president, in to dinner ahead of Alice Longworth, wife of the speaker . . . He was Chilean ambassador then. . . . That was a day when the world had little to worry about—no depression, no European wars, no encroaching communism in Asia, no foreign aid—just the fact that the Hoover administration would not decide who should sit where at dinner until after Carlos Davila, following two futile meetings of the full diplomatic corps, grasped the bull by the horns and Dolly Gann by the arm, and solved it for them. Honest, Ex-President

He always hated to have me recall that he had once been the arbiter of a social crisis, and I did not recall it to him on that October afternoon. We talked of other things—simple things—old friends—poignant things . . . How, when exiled as president of Chile he had tried to find a job in the U.S.A. . . . Of Karl Bickel, who had helped him, and Joshua Powers, who also helped . . . and Roy Howard . . . Bickel was head of the United Press in those days and got Davila a job writing a column for Latin-American newspapers for about $50 a week . . . Davila didn't mention it, but I knew he well remembered how most Latin-American presidents leave office only after protecting their financial future. He did not . . . He had given Chile 100 days of honest, vital reform—reform which still remains; had come to the United States to work, scrump, save the rest of his life. I know because I sometimes advanced him the railroad fare between New York and Washington. . . . And now in the autumn of his years, for the first time since he left the president's palace in Santiago, he had security. A year ago he had become head of the Pan American Union . . . And he was dying.

Dynamic Crusader For Peace

Outside, in the fading October sunshine, the brilliant Inca tile of the Pan American Union also seemed faded and discouraged. The union would be more faded when Davila died . . . But the parrot in the palm tree in the patio seemed just as cocky, just as unconcerned as the children who played in the street outside. He had lived 100 years, had seen directors of the Pan American Union come and go, had watched diplomats gather to prevent war in the Chaco, had been awakened only last winter when Davila as director of the Pan American Union summoned 21 ambassadors to meet all night to stop war between Nicaragua and Costa Rica. . . . Davila had stopped that war . . . By 4 a. m. a plane was warming up at the National Airport to carry five ambassadors to Central America. Never had there been such dynamic, drastic action for peace. . . . Afterward Davila asked me, asked other newsmen to give credit to other envoys. They deserved it. . . . But we knew, they knew, that he was the man who deserved it most.

"There is so much to be done," the old man sighed, "and so little time to do it." . . . The October sun was sinking, his life was ebbing, and he did not know it. His great ambition was peace; to bring more unity between the United States and Latin Americans. He had worked at this so hard that in Chile he could not run for president again. Chileans considered him an adopted Gringo—too good a friend of the United States . . . Yet the State Department considered him too avid in his devotion to Pan America.

The old man was asleep now . . . The football game was almost over. The October sun was faint and feeble as it filtered in through the latticed window. I remember as I sat there how, on New Year's Eve, only 10 months before, I had driven in from Maryland to drink a toast with Davila just before midnight . . . "It will be a good year for both of us," he predicted. . . . It was not a good year for him. But it was a good year for Pan American peace . . . Other memories came crowding back . . . How I had gone to the White House in 1940 to get a plane to take his wife, dying of cancer, back to Chile, back to her native land. And now her husband, dying from the same dread disease, lay very quiet while the final football scores droned in through the window and children played outside in the street.

Trying On For Size

By Brother Barnabas

When you go to the store to buy a new suit, the clothier first glances you over to see whether you are of the jim-daddy or holligan type, and then says, "Let's try this on for size!"

He has all sizes and models — for lanky, corpulent or dromedary shapes — those who have their youthful figure, and those who have the middle age spread.

If one weighs 275 or over a tent is recommended, which can be landscaped down to measure, and so the customer is suited.

Thereby hangs a tale. In these days approaching the political conventions of 1956, the public is awakening and the party leaders are in a dither about who are to be our standard-bearers in the coming national election campaign.

Close Scrutiny

Each aspirant or dark horse is being X-rayed to find out whether he is big enough for the job, is available, and has the dough to pay the fiddler.

If the nominee is elected he may by economy recoup his stake in the ballyhoo, pay the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker, and salt down a few pennies to tide him over till he can sell his memoirs telling all about the Who-Units.

Incidentally, the President's salary is $100,000 a year, plus an expense allowance of $50,000, both taxable. Also he is allowed up to $40,000 per annum for traveling expenses and official entertainment.

It is a truism that "the man with the longest poll gets the persimmon," but in politics we have substituted "pull" for "poll" as was the case when Harding got the presidential persimmon and the "peepul" got the lemon.

It's a passing fancy of the writer that every mother's son of us is mentally indexed and whenever there is a position of honor or trust to be filled we have no difficulty in recognizing the one who exactly fills the bill.

Popular choices do not always pay off. The man may be too small for the job, or the job too small for the man.

It is a great disappointment when a man in possession of power and opportunity doesn't know how to use either.

Names, Not Numbers

A census taker asked a woman how many children she had. She began naming them one by one. "Never mind," said he, "we want only the number." In reply she said, "I didn't give my children numbers. I gave them names."

Manufacturers do not measure men by horse-power. If they do they are silly. Shoes are made to fit the foot, not feet to fit the shoe.

Appeals Filed In Garrett Co. Assault Cases

OAKLAND — Three former area residents who were recently convicted of assault charges against William F. and Thelma Frazee, Friendsville, have appealed the decision of Trial Magistrate W. O. Bitzer.

The three involved were Larry Lawson, Lee Rice and Forrest Sam Byrd. Rice has been residing in Cleveland for the past four years but has been returning to Friendsville upon numerous occasions.

Frazee charged Lawson, Rice and Byrd with having committed an assault upon him on September 19 at Friendsville. Mrs. Burgess also claimed they had assaulted her.

The three were charged with committing certain acts amounting to disturbance of the peace and with maliciously destroying Frazee's property in Friendsville.

Rice also was charged with operating an automobile under the influence of alcoholic beverages and reckless driving.

They pleaded not guilty to all charges but Magistrate Bitzer found them guilty. They were sentenced to serve 11 months in the House of Correction, all sentences to run concurrently. On the charge of disturbing the peace they were sentenced for a period of two months.

The three furnished bonds in the amount of $1,000 for their appearance before the court on March 3, 1956.

Ohio Man Held Transporting Untaxed Alcohol

Says 60 Jugs Cos' $40 In Petersburg

SOMERSET—An Ohio man hauling 60 jugs of illegal moonshine in the rear seat of his car was nabbed by Somerset State Police Wednesday after he paused for a nap on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Albert J. McCoy, 25, of RD 1, Chatfield, Ohio, who had halted his car about three miles east of the Donegal interchange and fallen soundly asleep in the front seat, was roused by Pvt. Orrie V. Peterson at about 12:30 p.m.

Pvt. Peterson said he investigated the car to see if the driver was in trouble, but became suspicious of the awakened McCoy's attitude.

Investigating a mound in the rear seat, carefully covered with blankets, the officer uncovered five cardboard cases of illegal spirits—a total of 30 gallons of moonshine neatly bottled in half-gallon jugs.

McCoy, cold sober at the time of his arrest, was turned over to state liquor control agents in Westmoreland County. Police said he would be charged with interstate transportation of untaxed alcohol. He told them he had paid $40 for it in Petersburg, W. Va.

Garrett County Vote Machine Plan Rejected

Joint Meeting Called Monday

OAKLAND — The Garrett County Commissioners unanimously rejected the recommendation of the Board of Election Supervisors for the purchase of voting machines.

The Election Board made a recommendation last week that the commissioners purchase 36 voting machines from the Automatic Voting Machine Company.

The price for the machines delivered in Oakland was set at $1,474 per machine, for a total cost of $53,064, less two per cent discount, or $1,061.28, which would make the total cost $52,002.72.

The only other bid was from the Schoup Voting Machine firm to deliver $50,801.12 for 36 machines. This would figure $1,201.60 less than the machines of the Automatic Voting Machine Company.

H. D. Swartzentruber, president of the County Commissioners, said the board was of the opinion that any decision on the purchase should have been made jointly by the two boards, according to the law, and pointed out there was nothing in the law which said that any recommendation should be made by the Board of Supervisors of Elections to the County Commissioners for approval of the latter.

In a letter to William L. Gibson, president of the Board of Supervisors of Elections, the County Commissioners set Monday at 2 p. m. as the time for a joint meeting in the bar library.

The letter further disclosed that the attorney to the board of County Commissioners and the attorney to the Election Board had furnished the commissioners with an analysis of the bids submitted that clearly showed the bid submitted by the Schoup Voting Machine Corporation was less expensive to the county, whether the machines were purchased for cash or on terms.

From the analysis it also appeared that both machines would comply with the requirements set forth by law and that the citizens would benefit from the purchase of a machine that would cost them the least. The letter then declared "This Board has unanimously decided that it cannot accept the recommendation that the machines be purchased from the Automatic Voting Machine Corporation."

By FRED SHARER

It took two last period touchdowns by the Fort Hill Sentinels to trim a revenge-minded Hagerstown team last night before some 3,500 fans at the local stadium. The final count was Fort Hill 20 and Hagerstown 14.

It took the Red Raiders just nine plays from scrimmage to start the ball rolling toward what appeared to be another rout. The march started on the Fort Hill twenty, and eight plays later they were on the visitors' three, from where Don Hammersmith stepped into the end zone untouched by human hands. Jim Crawford's kick was perfect, and the Sentinels led with just four and one half minutes gone in the first quarter.

If anyone anticipated a rout, their minds were quickly changed, as the Hubs moved to the Fort Hill 22, where with fourth and one, they lost the ball on downs. The game then became a see-saw affair, as the ball changed hands four times with neither team making a first down.

Hubs Deadlock Score

With just two minutes remaining in the half, "Tubby" Stotler intercepted Crawford's pass in Hagerstown territory to stop another Sentinel threat. They moved to the Fort Hill 49, and on the next play, Stotler stepped back to pass, and found Monty Johnstone wide open on the 15. Johnstone gathered in the toss and scooted the remaining distance. Bob Wachter added the point after, and the score was deadlocked at intermission.

In the third period it was all Hagerstown, as they took the kickoff and drove from their own 22 to the Sentinel 15. Using the same play which netted them their first score, the Hubs tallied again, Stotler to Johnstone. Wachter again booted the extra point.

The Hilltoppers were a determined team as they received the kickoff. In nine plays they marched from their own 30 for the score. The tally came after John Kesler had given them a first down on the Hub nine, and on the next play, Kesler scored. Hopes for at least a tie vanished, as Crawford's kick was off to the right.

Crawford Intercepts Pass

As the Hubs took the kickoff, it appeared as though they were going to add a clincher. Their plans were interrupted, however, as Crawford intercepted Roger Keisel's jump pass on his own 46. The Hammers were not to be stopped, as they reeled off three first downs, the last of which put them on the Hagerstown 4 yard stripe. It was Hammersmith again, as he blasted off right tackle for the score. Crawford split the uprights with his extra point try, thus ending the scoring for the evening.

The main contributors to the victory were Hammersmith and quarterback Galen McGregor. Hammersmith carried the ball 19 times for an average of 7.4 yards per carry, and it was McGregor's great faking that broke his running mates loose on many occasions. Hub fullback Baker proved to be one of the best runners to appear at the stadium so far this season. He carried 13 times for a 5.5 average.

Cop Sixth Straight

The victory was the sixth in a row for the Sentinels, and they now have an overall record of six wins and one setback. The loss was the second of the campaign for the Hubs. They have won five and tied one. Fort Hill will be at Front Royal, Virginia next Friday to take on the Warren County Wildcats. The lineups:

ROMNEY, Oct. 21 — Ridgeley High School's Blackhawks slayed off a last minute rally by Romney High's Pioneers here today to register a 13-7 decision over the locals in a hard-fought Potomac Valley Conference football battle. The Pioneers came within three yards of tying the score in the closing seconds when Divens blocked a punt, Tommy Hartman scooped up the ball and appeared to be headed for paydirt until Ronnie Abe caught him on the three-yard mark. Time ran out as Romney ran one more play and was thrown for a loss.

Ridgeley was outgained 189 to 122 yards on the ground, 85 to 37 yards on passes and Romney reeled off 16 first downs to the visitors' eight but the Blackhawks managed to halt the Pioneers five different times within the 10-yard line. In the second period Coach Wes Abrams' team saw two of its marches stymied by fumbles and on another occasion the home team lost the ball on downs. Twice in the final period Romney was held for downs after advancing deep into Ridgeley territory.

Hartman scored twice. Ridgeley lost no time crashing the scoring column in the opening period. After Ronnie Nield returned the kickoff to the 35, Kenny Hartman hit Bob Scott, right end, with a pass that covered 35 yards. Hartman slashed off tackle to the three and on the next play went over for the score. He also kicked the point.

Hartman sprinted 65 yards in the second period before being run out of bounds on the Romney three. He scored on an off tackle play but his kick for point was blocked. Romney averted a shutout in the final quarter when Paul Heavener scored on a 30-yard pass play and Ronnie Pyles booted the extra point.

Three Players Injured
Ridgeley lost two regulars as the result of injuries suffered in the second period. Ellsworth Lambert, regular center, suffered a mild concussion, and Dave Baker, defensive safety man, went out of action with a shoulder injury. Roland Shanholtz, Pioneers' left halfback, was forced out in the same period with an ankle injury.

Tommy Hartman accounted for 127 yards rushing for Romney. Jerry Hannas also was outstanding on offense.

The victory was Ridgeley's fourth in five starts in conference play and moved Chet Payne's eleven into second place. The Blackhawks' overall record now is 6-1. Lineups:

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 21 — Three spectacular long runs of 85, 87 and 77 yards for touchdowns highlighted Allegany High's 27-14 victory over the Martinsburg Bulldogs at Coburn stadium here tonight before a crowd of about 4,000 as the Campers of Cumberland, Md., remained unbeaten with their fifth straight triumph.

Martinsburg, striving for an upset with one of its best games of the year, was stunned by the suddenness of the Allegany scoring as Bob Fletcher raced 87 yards with a kickoff for one Camper six pointer; Ed Cecil returned a punt 85 yards for another score; and Don Perdwew romped 77 yards through tackle for a third counter. The fourth Allegany touchdown also was chalked up by Perdwew on a four-yard sweep around end.

AHS Dominates Play

Coach Roy Lester's undefeated Blue and White eleven dominated play throughout most of the scoreless first quarter and started the scoring parade after a poor Martinsburg punt gave the Campers the ball on the Bulldogs 31. Tom Mattick raced to the 15 for a first down, Cecil picked up eight to the seven and Fletcher took the ball to the four as the second period opened. Perdwew tallied from the four and Fletcher kicked the point for a 7-0 Allegany lead.

Moments later in the second canto Martinsburg punted and the ball rolled to the Campers 15 where Cecil grabbed it and raced down the left sidelines 85 yards behind beautiful blocking for another AHS counter. Fletcher's kick made at 14-0 with the two scores coming in less than two minutes of play.

Coach John Cobourns Bulldogs bounced back behind some beautiful passing by Jim Clark to Ronnie Porterfield to score. Intercepting an Allegany pass late in the period on the AHS 31 Martinsburg tallied when Clark passed 22 yards to Porterfield and then caught the lanky end in the end zone with an eight-yard conversion later. Frank Hawkins converted to make it 14-7.

Runs Kickoff Back

On the ensuing kickoff with less than a minute remaining in the half Fletcher took the ball on the Allegany 13 and romped 87 yards down the sidelines for the touchdown.

Martinsburg again scored when Porterfield blocked Mike Lease's punt at midfield in the third period, picking up the ball on the Campers' 35 and racing for the six-pointer. The conversion by Hawkins put the Bulldogs in arrears, 20-14.

Later in the third quarter Allegany held for downs on the 12 after Martinsburg had taken a poor AHS punt on the Campers 21. Cecil and Perdwew carried to the 23 when Perdwew broke off tackle to run 77 yards for the final touchdown.

Intercept Four Passes

Allegany intercepted four Martinsburg passes to break up scoring threats by the losers, two coming in the last quarter. Bob Fletcher pilfered three of the aeriels and Pete Charuhas the other.

The visitors' forward wall held the Martinsburg running attack to a net gain of 27 yards. Allegany returned three kickoffs for 117 yards and one punt for 85. The lineups:

KINGWOOD, W. Va., Oct. 21 — Kingwood High School's Stags chalked up touchdowns in the first, second and final quarters today to defeat Southern High School's gridders of Oakland, Md., by the score of 18 to 6.

The Stags tallied in the opening period when Zinn registered on a run from the 5 to climax an 80-yard drive. Zinn failed to add the extra point on a ground play.

Fred Colaw fumbled and Kingwood recovered on Southern's 19 to set up the home team's second score. Zinn carried to the 3 and on the next play Bishop scored on a quick opener Lewis' run for the extra point was stopped.

Later in the second period Deckman of Southern returned the kickoff off 28 yards from the 19 to 47. After two incomplete passes, Toby Colaw passed to Fred Colaw for a 6-yard gain and a 47-yard pass play by the same combination netted the Oakland touchdown. Fred Colaw ran 40 yards for the score. Toby Colaw's kick for the point went wide.

In the final period Kingwood's Bishop intercepted a Southern pass on the 47 and ran it back to the 17. A penalty for unnecessary roughness put Southern back on its one yard line from where Zinn ran right end for the touchdown. Lewis' run for the point was unsuccessful.

Outgained rushing, 237 yards to 93, Southern completed 8 of 18 passes for 117 yards.

The loss was Southern's third against two wins and one tie game. Lineups:

Dick Hilinski, Former Buckeye Tackle, Killed

Dies In Auto Mishap Near Ann Arbor, Mich.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 21 — Dick Hilinski, a tackle on Ohio State's Rose Bowl champion football team last year, was killed tonight when a car in which he was riding missed a curve and he was thrown out.

The accident occurred about 15 miles northeast of Ann Arbor. Sheriff's officers said Hilinski was carrying a varsity card from Ohio State. His companion, Sylvester J. Blake, carried an Army registration certificate for the car listing Columbus, Ohio, as his home town. Blake was taken to an Ann Arbor hospital where preliminary reports indicated his condition was not critical.

The officers said they were unable to determine immediately who was driving but said they assumed Blake was at the wheel of the foreign make auto which carried an Austria license.

The officers said the car missed the curve at a high rate of speed, skidded 195 feet along the shoulder, plowed 300 feet through a field and across an intersecting road, then came to rest 20 feet into a second field. Hilinski was thrown 45 feet from the car.

Hilinski's home was in Euclid, Ohio.

He had been helping on the Ohio State coaching staff and still had two years of work ahead of him in graduate work at the medical school.

He spent his freshman year at Notre Dame and played football for Ohio State in his junior and senior years.

Hilinski, an all Big-Ten tackle last year, and Blake were on their way to Fenton, Mich., where they were to be in the wedding party tomorrow of Jim Morris, a friend of Blake's.

Harness Track Issue Will Go To Voters

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (P)—The Jefferson County Circuit Court has rejected a request by Charles Town Raceways, Inc., to reexamine a petition filed by persons opposing a new horse racing track.

The petition contained enough signatures to assure a special election on the question of establishing a harness racing track in the county, in addition to the running track already in operation.

Yesterday's action by the court means that unless Raceways seeks other court action, a local option election will be held May 6.

Movies On TV

This business of exploiting movies on television is a tricky business and heaven knows where it will all end. In the beginning, you recall, movie producers hardly dared mention TV above a whisper. No movie stars were permitted within miles of a TV camera. And not a scrap of important film was ever allowed on the air.

All that's been changed. Probably the biggest single event in this line was when Walt Disney actually showed the home folks on TV more of "Davy Crockett" than they could see in a theater when the film was released. Last time Mr. Disney was in town I asked him what effect he thought this had on the boxoffice.

"Well, it's hard to say," he declared. "Normally a picture like that with a couple of comparative unknowns like Fess Parker and Buddy Ebsen couldn't expect to gross more than $700,000 or $800,000 in this country. However, Crockett grossed $2,000,000 which is a very good domestic gross. Television has got to be credited with much of that."

That opened the floodgates and now Twentieth Century Fox, MGM and Warner Brothers are all showing bits of their old pictures in the hope of attracting some cash at the box-office for their new ones. The question arises: how much is enough to whet your interest without slaking it?

It's a tough one. A short while ago, Ed Sullivan showed roughly a half hour of film from and about "Guys and Dolls." There were scenes of Frank Sinatra singing "Ever Lovin' Adelaide," a love scene between Jean Simmons and Marlon Brando, Miss Simmons soaking a Cuban cutie, and the Goldwyn girls doing a number. There were also glimpses of Mr. Goldwyn, the producer; Joe Mankiewicz, the director; Michael Kidd, the choreographer and Frank Loesser, the composer. Also Mr. Sullivan interviewed Mr. Brando and Miss Simmons (though not

Mr. Sinatra who in a dispute over this show accused Mr. Sullivan of a paid ad in "Variety" of being "sick, sick, sick.")

Well, it was interesting enough but several people in my living room announced that, where they had once planned to see the picture, they now didn't want to. It isn't that they had seen too much; it's simply that what they did see disappointed them. Right there is the danger. Television is a marvelous medium of exploitation. But what you show had better be good or you'll drive people away rather than lure them in. For example, I was lured to see a disappointing picture "Daddy Long Legs" by a scrap of it I had seen on television. It just so happened they tossed us the best song and dance number in the whole picture. I went to it expecting all of it to be that good. It wasn't.

Now some time ago, "Mr. Roberts" was shown on the Ed Sullivan show, a whole hour of it. It hasn't seemed to have hurt business, but if I were a movie producer, I would never allow that much of a picture to the home folks for free. Not if I planned to sell tickets to it.

Then there's the other side of the coin—not showing enough of the picture. Recently, Twentieth Century Fox kicked off its series of TV remakes of old films (along with plugs for new ones) with "Cavalcade," the Noel Coward play that made a truly great picture. Naturally the story had to be skeletonized for TV and those of us who remember the original with fondness were slightly horrified at the vast gashes that had been cut out of it.

A good many pictures could be cut from two hours to fifty minutes and be improved by the cuts. Not "Cavalcade," though. The Twentieth Century Fox program has remakes of some good movies in store for us, including "The Ox-Bow Incident," "The Late George Apley," "Junior Miss," and "Miracle on 34th Street." It will be interesting to see how they fare on television.

Contract Bridge by Josephine Culbertson

NOTRUMP VS. SUIT SLAMS

PLAYERS who take up duplicate (match-point) bridge soon discover that the game puts quite a premium on notrump contracts. South could have ruffed his little club in the dummy. At notrump, however, the play was not so simple, and South went down.

West opened the club jack against six notrump. South won, cashed the spades and then tried for a break in hearts, leading out the ace, king and queen. The 3-3 break failed to materialize, however, and since West had held on to his hearts and clubs, discarding two diamonds on the spades, the contract was hopeless.

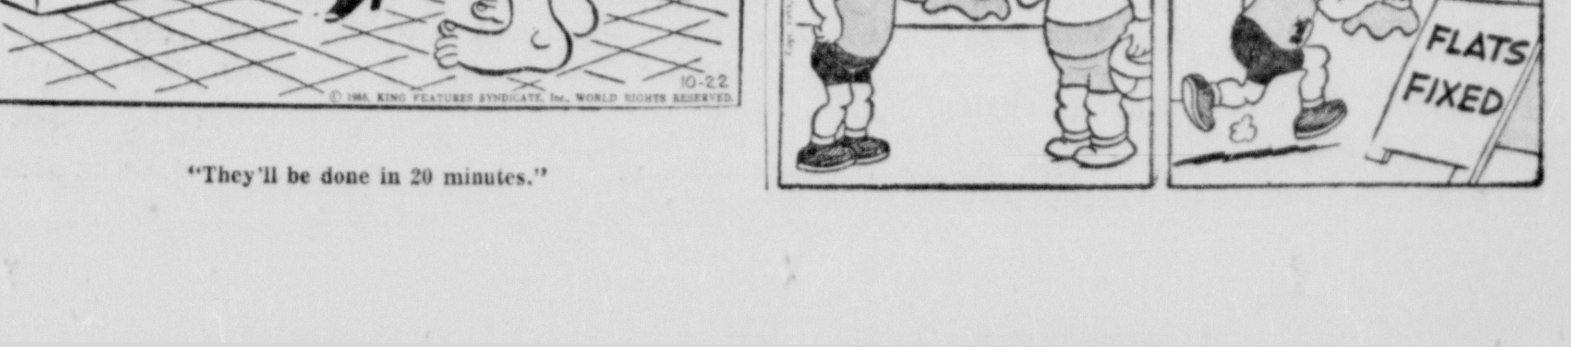

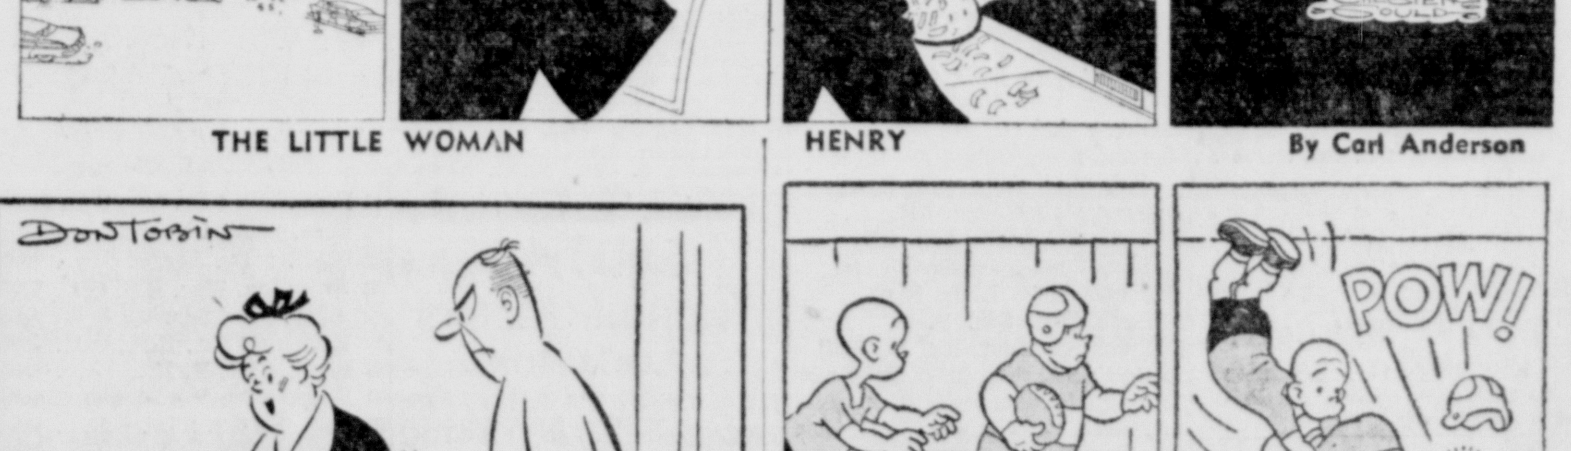

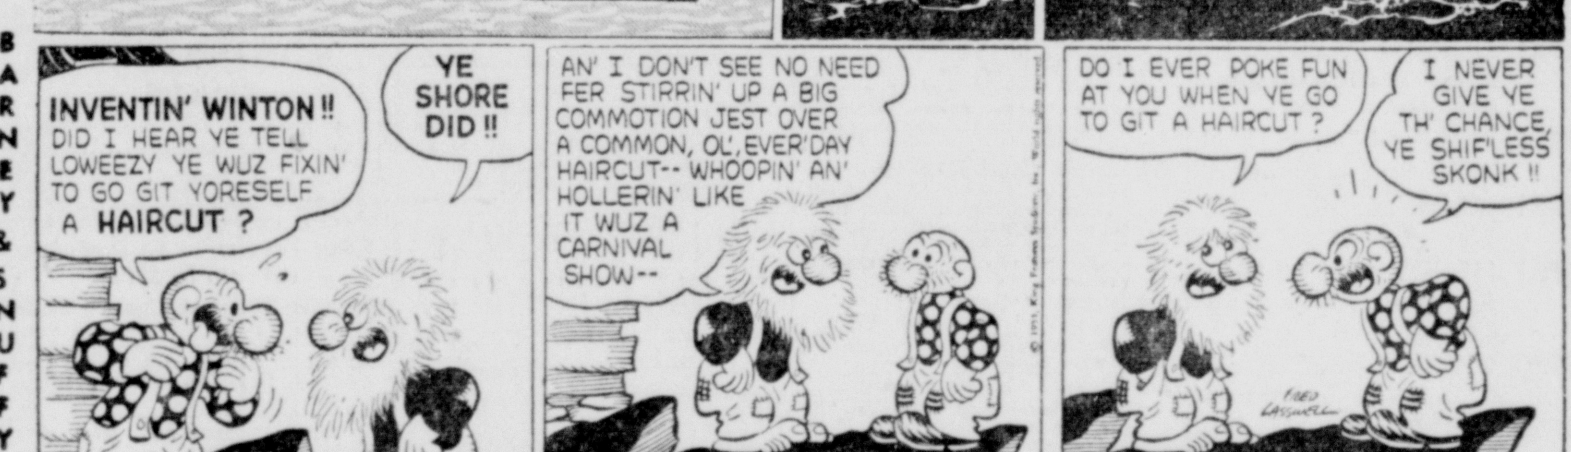

South should have anticipated that the heart suit might not break (a 3-3 division is not to be expected) and, to increase his chances very substantially, he should have led his low diamond early in the play. After regaining the lead he would cash the four spades, the diamond ace and then the three top hearts. Meanwhile, West would have found himself squeezed out of either his heart or his club stopper, and 12 tricks would inevitably accrue to South.

The early concession of the diamond was vital, so that if one defender had the stopper in both clubs and hearts, the squeeze would operate against him automatically.

Tighter Safety Regulations For Trucks Indicated

Federal, State Studies Expected

Tightening of federal and state safety regulations for trucks was indicated yesterday in the wake of the tragic pileup of a runaway tractor-trailer which killed five people at LaVale Wednesday morning.

Prompted by that accident and two other similar cases which occurred in recent days, the Interstate Commerce Commission called for "complete compliance" by the trucking industry with ICC safety regulations.

Commissioner Richard F. Mitchell, chairman of the ICC's motor carrier division, said the commission will shortly propose additional brake regulations for heavy vehicles to "substantially reduce the loss-of-control type of accidents."

Mitchell pointed out that the local accident and others at West Newton and Kittanning, Pa., killed a total of 10 persons, injured several others, and caused extensive property damage.

Fatality Rate Up
He added that a 14 per cent increase in trucking mileage during the first half of 1955 brought with it a 33 per cent increase in fatal accidents and a 31 per cent increase in the number of persons killed in those accidents.

At the same time, the executive committee of the American Trucking Association urged that each unit of tractor-trailer combinations have an independent brake system to prevent runaways.

Rep. Clark (D-Pa.) called for a congressional investigation to determine whether highway safety laws are adequate and whether they are being enforced.

The Maryland State Police and State Roads Commission also entered the picture.

Major William H. Weber, executive officer of the State Police, said a plan suggested by the Maplehurst Country Club of Frostburg "ought to be helpful."

The club suggested that all tractor-trailers be required to stop at the summits of big mountains and to go into lower gears. Signs would be posted to warn truck drivers of the downgrades ahead.

Legislation Needed
Major Weber, pointing out that some mountains already have such signs, said really effective enforcement probably would require a specific act by the General Assembly to require truckers to go into holding gears when descending grades.

Chairman Russell H. McCain of the Roads Commission said that, while the SRC had not yet received the Maplehurst letter, the commission is "ready to cooperate with any and all groups in doing anything we can to minimize the chance of a repetition."

Authorities are blaming a worn and taped-up air brake hose for Wednesday's accident at LaVale. Sgt. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the State Police, said the runaway truck had passed an inspection Saturday at the Roosevelt Garage, 734 Roosevelt Avenue, York, Pa., which is Pennsylvania Inspection Station 164.

The Pennsylvania State Department of Revenue at Harrisburg said its records showed the truck's brakes were approved, and that 70 per cent of the brake lining itself was intact.

Driver Leaves Hospital
Other Pennsylvania inspection authorities said taping of brake hoses is not permitted under inspection standards.

The driver of the tractor-trailer, Paul S. Myers Jr., 25, of Dover, Pa., was released yesterday from Sacred Heart Hospital, where he had been under observation and treatment for injuries that apparently were superficial.

Myers is free under $5,000 bond for action of the January grand jury on a charge of manslaughter by motor vehicle.

The owner of the truck, Ray Wells, also of Dover, posted $1,000 bond for his appearance as a material witness.

No Soil Test Needed For Limited Lime Use

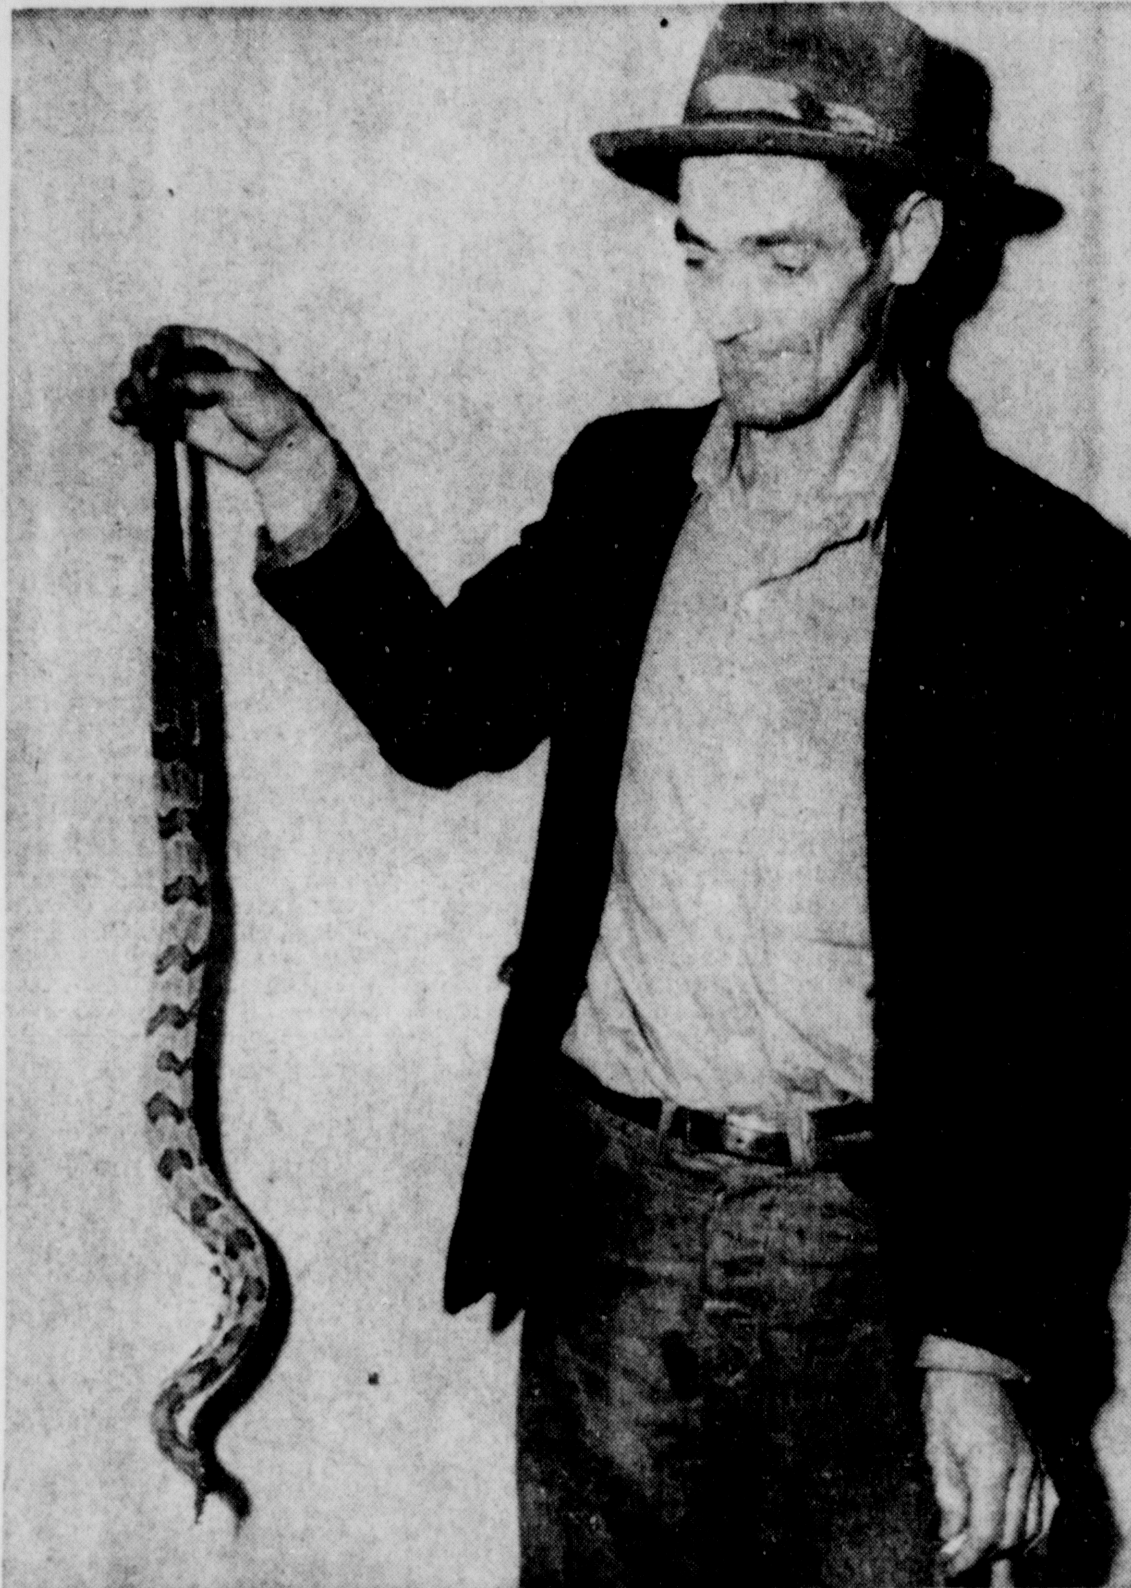

Allegheny County farmers may use between 2,000 and 4,000 pounds of lime to the acre on their fields during the rest of this year under the cost-share program directed by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Previously, farmers have been required to have their soil tested and then must apply the amount of lime shown to be needed by the test. In many cases this has run between 7,000 and 9,000 pounds of lime to the acre.

It had been planned to liberalize this program next year to allow farmers to put a minimum of 2,000 pounds to the acre and a maximum of 4,000 pounds to the acre on their land without a soil test. Now the State ASC Committee has sent a directive to Miss Elizabeth Hoover, manager of the County ASC office here, instituting this no-test plan for the rest of 1955 too.

Bags Big Rattlesnake

Clifford Campbell of Bowman's Addition yesterday morning went squirrel hunting and ended up bagging the 39-inch rattlesnake shown in the picture. Campbell said he was tramping through the woods on Wills Mountain when he saw the snake poised on a log ready to strike. When he got his bearings, he shot the snake "from the hip" with his bolt-action 12-gauge shotgun. He has killed other rattlesnakes, including a black diamond rattler which measured about four feet. The one he killed yesterday had 12 rattlers. Although he killed the rattler about 11 o'clock yesterday morning the reptile showed signs of "life" after 6 p. m. as evidenced in the picture.

Teacher's Job In Integration Termed Easiest

State Convention Will End Today

BALTIMORE, Oct. 21 (AP)—Maryland teachers were told today that of all the problems connected with racial integration in schools, "The teacher's job is the easiest."

A New York University anthropologist, Dr. Ethel Alpenfeld, made the statement in an address before the second general session of the 88th annual convention of the Maryland State Teachers Assn.

What makes the teacher's job easier, Dr. Alpenfeld said, is the fact that "we are taught to teach individuals, not groups."

"We have learned to evaluate the individual child — what does this child need? How has he grown to date?" the speaker added.

Later in the day, the estimated 14,000 teachers split off into departmental groups, the real "brass tacks" portion of the annual meeting, at which they discussed problems connected with their own individual specialties.

The convention, which gave most children in the state a two-day holiday, ends Saturday.

The association's governing body is expected to adopt resolutions which would:

Re-state the MSTA's support of integration "in a fair and lawful manner."

Urge teachers to participate in an expanded public relations program to further the MSTA's five-year school program for better school construction, better salaries and improvement of retirement benefits.

Recommend support for a plan to add social security benefits to those now in force under the teacher retirement system.

Higher standards of education. The assembly also will act on the nominating committee's choice of Paul B. Stevens, guidance counselor at Baltimore City College, for president of the association. Stevens will make the customary step up from second vice president.

The committee chose Violet Davis, supervisor of elementary schools in Harford County, for second vice president, placing her in line for the presidency next year.

The retiring president, B. Melvin Cole of Baltimore County, automatically becomes first vice president.

James McKelvey, Thomas Beck and Mary M. Sweitzer were granted permission to transfer the license for Southern Bar, Inc., to 60 North Mechanic Street. This beer, wine and liquor license is being transferred from 135 North Mechanic Street.

Floyd L. Winebrenner and Gladys Mae Winebrenner are issued a beer license for premises at the intersection of Woodland, Carlos and Klondyke roads at Woodland. The license, issued earlier to Leonard Morgan and Alice Morgan for the same premises, was surrendered.

An application was received this week from Arthur F. Friedland, Bernice A. Friedland and Andrew P. Santore for a beer, wine and liquor license for Andy's Liquor Store, Inc. at 236 Baltimore Avenue. This is simple a change from a partnership to a corporation.

Maximum allowable time on a Wright 1820 is 1200 hours, according to Air Force standards.

Captain Norman Patton is rescue engineering officer for the squadron. He is a son of Mrs. Orpha Patton and the late Norman L. Patton of Grantsville.

A clipping from the Ashiya Breeze, Air Force publication, showing Captain Patton and the maintenance crew changing the long serviceable engines, has just been received by his mother in Grantsville.

The engine record achieved by Dumbo 7203 exceeds by 490 hours the Third Air Rescue Group average for engine changes on SA-16 aircraft. Captain Patton states in the article accompanying the picture that the record was the result of excellent maintenance of the aircraft's ground crew.

Surplus Food Distribution On Decline

October Below September Demand

Distribution of surplus foods, sponsored by the Allegheny County Board of Commissioners, was completed yesterday, with a slight decrease in the number of recipients from last month.

During the two weeks of distribution, according to Walker Chapman, supervisor, 2,487 families of 7,740 people received allotments of butter, cheese, dried milk and shortening. This compares with 2,624 families of 8,354 individuals who received the same type commodities in September. A year ago, the trend was up instead of downward.

The report shows that in Cumberland, 1,030 families of 3,016 people received 4,292 pounds of butter, 3,193 pounds of cheese, 5,289 pounds of milk, and 3,567 pounds of shortening.

In Frostburg, 330 families of 1,111 people received 1,550 pounds butter, 1,144 pounds cheese, 1,710 pounds milk and 1,200 pounds shortening.

Lonaconing had the third highest distribution with 271 families of 903 people getting 1,235 pounds butter, 927 pounds cheese, 1,354 pounds milk and 960 pounds shortening.

Barton shows 187 families of 550 people receiving 778 pounds butter, 593 pounds cheese, 626 pounds milk and 435 pounds shortening.

In fifth place, running close to Barton, was Midland with 169 families of 554 individuals receiving 772 pounds butter, 588 pounds cheese, 860 pounds milk and 585 pounds shortening.

Mt. Savage records show 154 families of 465, picked up 712 pounds butter, 523 pounds cheese, 801 pounds milk and 537 pounds shortening.

At Westernport 128 families of 384 individuals, received 550 pounds butter, 438 pounds cheese, 639 pounds milk and 444 pounds shortening.

Eckhart had 113 families of 387 people who called for 537 pounds butter, 407 pounds cheese, 576 pounds milk and 396 pounds shortening.

At Cresaptown there were 105 families of 370 people who received 521 pounds butter, 390 pounds cheese, 572 pounds milk and 393 pounds shortening.

Total distribution in the county was 10,947 pounds of butter; 8,203 pounds cheese; 12,427 pounds milk; and 8,517 pounds shortening.

The distribution for November will begin a week earlier, according to Chapman, because of the Thanksgiving holiday. The distribution, he said, will start at Westernport on November 7.

Registration for the December allotment will be held at all centers except Midland, Eckhart and Mt. Savage, on October 31, November 1 and November 2.

In Midland and Eckhart there will be a one-day registration only on November 1. In Mt. Savage, there will be a two-day registration, on November 1 and 2.

Chapman said an effort is still being made to obtain other commodities, including flour, for distribution here during the winter months.

City Tax Bill Deadline Near

City Collector George E. Davis and his assistants are expecting to be mighty busy Monday when city taxpayers rush to beat the deadline for paying city taxes without penalty.

Through Thursday collections had totaled $628,307.91. This included $259,948.33 paid in September and $368,359.58 so far this month. Yesterday's collections undoubtedly will bring the totals above $700,000.

The collections through Thursday represented about 55.7 per cent of the $1,128,500 the city expects to derive from property taxes. Davis has predicted that the collections before the deadline for payment without interest will approach 90 per cent.

After Monday one per cent interest will be added to all tax bills. That is on the basis of one-half of one per cent interest for each month since August 24 when the levy was set by the Mayor and City Council.

The only other bidder was the Cumberland Lincoln-Mercury Sales and Service, which submitted a higher figure.

William H. Lemmert, the board president, yesterday received a copy of a letter which G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the State Roads Commission, sent to Philip R. Miller, New Row, Mt. Savage, concerning the Mt. Savage School Road.

Miller had suggested that by using a road to the left of the school road, the grade of the road might be reduced. Chaires informed the Mt. Savage man that he believes the cost would be prohibitive to attempt to lower the grade below the anticipated 15 per cent.

B&O And City Discuss Plans On Expressway

Project Will Affect Railroad

Representatives of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company and city officials conferred yesterday afternoon in the office of Mayor Roy W. Eves concerning the planned cross-town expressway.

Mayor Eves observed that the big construction project vitally concerns the Baltimore and Ohio for a number of reasons. It will span the B&O tracks near the Queen City Station and on the West Side where the tracks lead toward Keyser.

Then, too, the expressway will come just south of the Queen City Hotel.

As part of the agreement between the State Roads Commission and the Mayor and City Council for constructing the expressway the city must provide traffic controls along Henderson Avenue to speed the flow of traffic along that artery.

Mayor Eves said yesterday's discussions centered around ways of coordinating the railroad signals with Henderson Avenue traffic signals so that motor vehicles could continue to move without stopping along Henderson Avenue whenever the crossing along that street are blocked by trains.

Representing the B&O at yesterday's meeting were T. J. Klauenberg, new Cumberland division superintendent; Robert J. Wild of the legal department; Gus Spath, special agent in the real estate department; John C. Luber, a special representative, and William H. Geppert of the local law firm of Gunter and Geppert, which represents the B&O locally. Luber is also well known here as Speaker of the House of Delegates in Annapolis.

Mayor Eves, City Solicitor Thomas B. Finan and City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum represented the city.

County To Buy Lilya New Car

When County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya recuperates from his illness and return to his job he will have a new automobile to drive.

The Allegheny County Board of Commissioners yesterday accepted the bid of St. George Motor Company for a new eight-cylinder Customline Ford at a total cost of $912.35, including an $110.00 allowance on a 1952 model car which the county investigator now uses.

The original bid price was $1,860.35 less the $1,100, or $760.36. The commissioners accepted two alternates. By taking a Customline instead of a Mainline model they added $75 to the cost and eight cylinders instead of six upped the price another $77.

The only other bidder was the Cumberland Lincoln-Mercury Sales and Service, which submitted a higher figure.

William H. Lemmert, the board president, yesterday received a copy of a letter which G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the State Roads Commission, sent to Philip R. Miller, New Row, Mt. Savage, concerning the Mt. Savage School Road.

Miller had suggested that by using a road to the left of the school road, the grade of the road might be reduced. Chaires informed the Mt. Savage man that he believes the cost would be prohibitive to attempt to lower the grade below the anticipated 15 per cent.

Local Resident Found Shot In Home Workshop

Walter I. Whetzel Hospitalized Here

City Police are investigating the shooting of a 54-year-old local man who was reported in "critical" condition last night in Memorial Hospital with a slug lodged in the back of his head.

The victim, Walter I. Whetzel, 127 Humbird Street, who is unemployed, was found by a son about 4:15 p. m. yesterday in a workshop located in the rear of the Whetzel home. He was bleeding behind his right ear.

Joseph H. Stichter, City Police detective who talked with Whetzel last night, said the man was semi-conscious and it was not known just how the mishap occurred.

The slug of a .32 calibre pistol entered the man's head near the right ear and an X-ray report showed that the slug was still lodged there last night.

Two empty cartridges were found in the pistol, police said. Whetzel was reported to have kept an empty cartridge in the pistol. A daughter, Mildred, who lives at home, told police her father was out in the workshop early in the afternoon.

About 4:15 p. m. Mrs. Whetzel came home and later told a son, Edward, 5, to go out to the workshop and tell his father to come into the house.

The boy went to the workshop and found his father sitting in a slumped position on a straight-back chair with the pistol lying on the floor.

He ran back to the house and told his mother. An ambulance was summoned and Whetzel was taken to the hospital. At first it was not known that a gun caused the head wound, although powder burns were found near his ear, police added.

Whetzel, who has worked as a theater projectionist, reportedly had been despondent. Stichter and Officer Elmer Shank said Whetzel will be questioned by the State's Attorney's office when released from the hospital.

Six Persons Are Hurt In 2-Car Crash

Six employees of Allegheny Ballistics Laboratory en route to work were injured yesterday morning in a two-car head-on collision on Route 220 at the north gate of the Amcelle plant.

Admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital and reported in "fair" condition after X-rays were taken are: Eugene McGreevy, 30, of 240 North Mechanic Street, who sustained lacerations of the nose, head and side, and complained of rib injuries; Mrs. Donald W. Mason, 28, of 435 North Centre Street, who suffered injuries about her ribs and legs; James Kloran, 57, of 38 North Liberty Street, driver of one of the cars, who sustained a badly injured leg, facial bruises and lacerations as well as a nose injury, and complained of chest injuries; Miss Louise Lippold, 30, of 106 Greene Street, who complained of head injuries and injuries of her left arm and right leg.

Treated at the hospital were Robert Mattingly, 328 Cumberland Street, and Billy C. Menges, 539 Greene Street.

Trooper Robert Wolford said the driver of the car which crossed the center line into the path of the Kloran car was Asa H. McDowell, 24, of RD 3, Keyser, who works in a local garage.

He and a passenger whom police did not identify were not injured. Trooper Wolford reported McDowell will probably face a charge of failing to keep to the right of the center of the highway.

All of the rest of her estate is to be divided equally among her four children, Mrs. Ray A. Spangler, Mrs. Ruth E. Taylor, Mrs. Verna Cook and Robert E. McFarland. McFarland, qualified as executrix of the estate under a $1,000 bond. The will was dated June 29, 1955.

Also filed for probate yesterday was the will of Mrs. Marie Myers Welsh, who died May 31. She was 74 and lived in LaVale at the time of her death. Her entire estate was left to her daughter, Miss Kathryn McHale Welsh, RFD 1, who also qualified as executrix under a $100 bond. The will was dated June 18, 1952.
